The question arises, what are the reasons for this indifference on the part of the public? The real explanation we believe to be somewhat as follows. The Chinese washermen do their work effeccerned, and, at all events, to bachelors, return it promptly. The latter, too, have no trouble in connection with their washing. The "boys" see to its despatch and speedy return, and so far as convenience is concerned the system works admirably. Losses are exceedingly rare, and the bachelor is relieved Rules of H.B.M. He does not as a rule care to reflect how the spotless appearance of his linen is attained, or how the gless on his snowy shirt front is imparted; he only wants to be freed from bother and guaranteed against loss. It is stated that the Laundry Company have in several cases failed to return the clothes to the proper owners, and some of their customers have left them in consequence. WHAT IS THIS DISEASE THAT IS COMING UPON US?

Like a thief at night it steals in upon us unawares. Many persons have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky alime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is feeling like a heavy load on the stomach; sometimes a faint all-gone sensation at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. The eyes are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and feel clammy. After a while a cough sests in at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish coloured expectoration. The afflicted one feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable, and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sansation in the head when rising up suddenly. The bowels become costive; the skin dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with yellow, the urine is scanty and high-coloured, depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sourtaste, and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart; the vision becomes impaired with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms | Rain ...... are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-third of our population has this disease in some of its varied forms. It has been found that medical men have mistaken the nature of this disease. Some have treated it for a liver complaint, others for kidney disease, etc., etc., but none of the various kinds of treatment have been attended with success, because the remedy should be such as to act harmoniously upon each should be such as the should be such as the should be such as the should be such as th medical men have mistaken the nature of this plaint, others for kidney disease, etc., etc., but none of the various kinds of treatment have been attended with success, because the remedy should be such as to act harmoniously upon each one of these organs, and upon the stomach se well; for in Dyspepsia (for this is really what the disease is) all of these organs partake of this disease and require a remedy that will act upon all at the same time. EXTRACTS. INCOMPLETENESS. Nothing resting in its own completeness. Can have worth or beauty, but alone Because it leads and tends to further sweetness.

Fuller, higher, deeper than its own. Spring's real glory dwells not in the meaning, Gracious though it be, of her blue hours, But is hidden in her tonder leaning To the Summer's richer wealth of flowers. Dawn is fair because the mists fade slowly Into day, which floods the world with light;

Just because it ends in storry night. Life is only bright when it proceedoth Toward a truer, deeper life above ; Human love is sweetest when it leadeth To a more divine and perfect love.

Twilight's mystery is so sweet and hely.

Learn the mystery of progression duly ; Do not call each glarious change decay; But we know we only hold our treasures truly When it seems as if they passed away. Nor dare to blame God's gifts for incompleteness; In that went their boanty lies; they roll Toward some infinite depth of love and sweetness Bearing onward man's reluctant soul. ADELAIDE A. PECCTOR.

A LOVER'S SUICIDE.

ANECDOTE OF TURNER. The following story of Turner is told, the Pall Mall Gasette says, on the authority of a living artist, and will no doubt be of interest as one of the few authentic anecdotes related of the great landscape painter. Turner, happening one day to pass a print shop, noticed in the window a copy of one of the engravings from his famous " Liber Siudiorum." The print was in a very dirty, BAN HUP, Esq. ragged state, and Turner naturally felt ag. CHAN LI CHOY, Esq. Q. Hor CHUNE, Esq. grieved at seeing the work of his hands in this dilapidated condition.
